When you leave this world, you take with you what you give, ...not what you take.

Year's end is neither an end nor a beginning but a going on, with all the wisdom that experience can instill in us Hal Borland

Dear Readers,
AssalamoAlaikum.

As you read this editorial one year is rapidly coming to an end while a new one is just about to get under way. As in any year, 2012 will have its share of highlights and lowlights, break-ups and make-ups, of winners and losers, of good times and bad times and everything in between.

Man's pride can be his self downfall, and the many activities around the world will always be a reminder that nothing, absolutely nothing, ever made by humans is more powerful than nature and the eternal power. Look for the Arab Spring to continue in 2012 in the Middle East and possibly in other parts of the world. There may be no stopping these tsunamis of protest and change now as people around the world are connected via the social media systems.

It's an opportunity for fresh starts that can include many things — leaving grievances or grudges behind, starting new friendships or building better relationships, losing weight at the gym or, fixing something about oneself that's been troubling or just becoming a better person all around. Perhaps you've wanted to volunteer with a charity but haven't. Do it! I have been associated with you for the last few months but one important thing is always bothering me how are we serving you through Bihar Anjuman and its newsletter BaKhabar, we have continuously striving towards achieving a target to provide you a service through our network and its newsletter, All what we wanted to have your opinion about our work, our efforts it would not be wrong to say I have a desire to see your comments, your valuable opinion about our work and how we can improve ourselves, please do share your thoughts about us, please do help us by giving us your suggestion, your blessings.....please do so...

Have you ever just wanted to start over? If you've ever felt stuck, overwhelmed or like you just wanted another chance, consider the New Year a clean slate. Start fresh, start clean and forget about anything weighing you down previously.

Maybe your home is cluttered or messy and you don't know where to begin.

Start small and start fresh.

Start from now — the New Year — make lists and one at a time complete them. You will feel good each time you do.

Consider the New Year a new opportunity. Do something you've wanted to do but have been putting off. Cross it off your list and then do something else.

Enjoy your New Year's celebrations and have a great 2012.

Sincerely

Jamali

Appeal from BA, Dammam-Khobar(KSA) Chapter

Get-Together in "DUNES International School, Al Khobar" for a "NOBLE CAUSE", on Thursday, 12th January 2012

Nahmaduhoo wa Nusalli 'Ala Rasoolihil Kareem Fa 'Aaoodhubillahi Minash Shaitanirrajeem Bismillahir Rahman Ar Raheem

Rasheeda, a house-maid, sends her child, Abdul, to a nearby dhaba as early as five in the morning when the Muazzin calls for Fajr prayer, only to return by late night. Abdul and Muslim are kids alike who have lost all rights as a human beings, and live a life of utter slavery, deprived of basic needs, proper food, remain malnourished, and under these circumstances, education can never be their priority. Indian Muslims are a victim of neglect and deprivation, not just by the state, but by their own affluent brothers who are least bothered to come out of their cosy blankets.

Bihar Anjuman's Dammam-Khobar Chapter has pledged, in this scenario, to proactively make things happen by reaching out to people whose hearts still beat for the Ummah, and by inspiring others in our effort to help our less fortunate brothers in faith. Allah (swt) calls us to spend in His way, that of the needy, for they have a share in our income and spending on them is an obligation (Fardh) upon us. The latest project, AMBITION 2020, that Bihar Anjuman's Dammam-Khobar Chapter has undertaken aims to adopt a child from such sections of our society that live in abject poverty and are willing but incapable to educate their children. It is projected to cover the entire expenses of a total of 200 children from Grade Five (5) till they complete their Senior Secondary Schooling with new batches enrolling every year [numbers would start at 200 and add 200 every year, reaching its final level of 1,200 beneficiaries in 6 years].

To achieve the goal, it is planned to organise a 'Dine to Donate' Benefit Dinner programme so that funds could be raised through a mass gathering of our brothers who are ready to come forward and take steps to reform our society rather than blame the status quo on the government. It is requested to all to lend their time for this noble cause and help this fundraising by calling people to join in our mission to become an empowered community and be the torch-bearers in shaping our destinies and that of the Ummah.

We invite all our brothers to co-sponsor the event through advertisement banners and hoardings of their respective businesses and companies. Act we must for we know not the time when we are no more and certainly we shall be responsible of our brothers in front of the All-Knowing and Al-Mighty Allah. Hope to join you in the cause and together shall we share the dream of a future where our kids assume leadership and take charge of the system.

Wassalam

Burden Of My Own

A Monarch of long ago had twin sons. As they grew to young manhood, the king sought a fair way to designate one of them as crown prince. All who knew the young men thought them equal in intelligence, wit, personal charm, health, and physical strength. Being a keenly observant king, he thought he detected a trait in one which was not shared by the other.

Calling them to his council chamber one day, he said, "My sons, the day will come when one of you must succeed me as king. The weight of sovereignty is very heavy. To find out which of you is better able to bear them cheerfully, I am sending you together to a far corner of the kingdom.

One of my advisors there will place equal burdens on your shoulders. My crown will one day go to the one who first returns bearing his yoke like a king should."

In a spirit of friendly competition, the brothers set out together. Soon they overtook an aged woman struggling under a burden that seemed far too heavy for her frail body. One of the boys suggested that they stop to help her. The other protested: "We have a saddle of our own to worry about. Let us be on our way."

The objector hurried on while the other stayed behind to give aid to the aged woman. Along the road, from day to day, he found others who also needed help. A blind man took him miles out of his way, and a lame man slowed him to a cripple's walk.

Eventually he did reach his father's advisor, where he secured his own yoke and started home with it safely on his shoulders.

When he arrived at the palace, his brother met him at the gate, and greeted him with dismay.

He said, "I don't understand. I told our father the weight was too heavy to carry. However did you do it?"

The future king replied thoughtfully, "I suppose when I helped others carry their yoke, I found the strength to carry my own."

Pondering on the Next Role of Bihar Anjuman

Now it is time to diversify the activities of Bihar Anjuman in some other needed fields to serve the communities. No doubt that with the coming of modern education among the Muslims of Bihar made them more active and in a position to play dominant role in the development of the state and community. This certainly will provoke the unexpected reaction from the traditional power holder of Bihar. And they will try to halt the march of the Muslims of Bihar. They will use different tactics to derail the advancement of the Muslims of Bihar in education, politics, and economy. So, to strengthen the line of March and to serve the people of the nation, the role of Bihar Anjuman has to be enlarged. The area in which Bihar Anjuman should work now is Education, Legal law and Social awakening against social evils. These could be achieved by formulating programmes, policies and establishment of council or bodies to look these matters in practical on wider scale. These bodies may be like

1. Educational Advisory Council. The council should be comprised on the educational expert of different field of education. There should be 20 members of the council. The meeting of the council should be twice in the year. The function of this advisory council should be to assist in the development of the schools among the community. Any group from the community which wants to establish schools for the community would get free expert advice on the every aspect of school like administration, grants etc. The council should guide the people in every aspect of school education.

For awareness about the education among the people, the council should organize the conference, Talimi Caravan, Seminars, Educational Awareness Week in the various districts of Bihar with the help of local running chapter/coaching centers of the Anjuman. The people who would support this council should be the students and the teachers of the various institutions and are ready to volunteer themselves for the cause of the state and community.

2. Legal Advisory council. This council should comprise on the legal expert of the law. There should be 30 members in this council. Ten (10) members should be retired and rest should be in working if possible in which five should be women. The purpose of this council should be to look after all the matter related to cases of terrorism only. The council would assist the state and victim to find out the culprit and dispense justice. This council should investigate the cases of terrorism and follow legal battle on the behalf of the people. The organization should also look after the rehabilitations of victims of terrorism with the help of the society and government.

There should be 4 meetings of this organization every year. The people who would assist this council should be practicing lawyers, teachers of legal law, Media persons, students Union, Women Organizations etc. The council should organize awareness programme regarding the law procedure of the nation, nature of different crimes, terrorism and working of different anti terrorism organizations.

3. Anti Social evils council. This group should be comprise on 20 members. At least 5 members should be women and three Ulemas/Mufti. The yearly meeting of this organization should be twice in year. The targeted social evils should be Dowry, Child labor, Domestic Violence, Divorce and marriage ceremony. The council should launch programme about the awareness against these social evils by organizing seminars, social gathering and people to people contact on village level. The anti social evils Caravan comprising students, teachers, social activist, media person and women organization. This caravan should be in touch of every local chapters of Anjuman. All those people who wish to join these organizations should be allow to work. There should be members directory maintained by the council with name, address and contact numbers. About the funds to start these organizations, every chapter organize a Donation Party on a cup of tea. While a mass appeal should be sent through news paper to the people on the challenging issues face by the community through mass media. This may be a small beginning but is urgent need of time as we are seeing the knocking on the door by unseen enemies in form declaring north Indian area and Muslims as emerging hub of terrorist organizations (see reports of various newspapers).

Starting a Career v/s doing Masters

A comparison for Graduates

No doubt after spending a lot of efforts, money & time for getting a Bachelor Degree, everyone wants to earn money to compensate these entire prime factors. But it's time to think widely comparing our dream job, the money we can earn, the area of our interest, the saturation time of our life span & off course further opportunity to study a bit more to add a feather in our cap. We have to spend our time to think & realize about our long term goals with comparing the every aspects of our professional carrier.

Lets start with simple factors, after getting a degree from an university, our prime target is to earn money. But we used to forget that we are in the era of competition. Every day we need some updates to make us alive in this competitive age. If we simply fail to grab an opportunity in our campus selection (where we get a god salary) the life becomes tough after the left turn outside our campuses.

Now this time is the time where we should sit alone and think about our prime targets or such called the priorities of our life. We should compare different opportunities in wide area of our related education. My ancestor used to tell "Padhai Kabhi Bekar Nai Jati" meaning education never goes in-vain, which we realize after spending some time during our professional carrier. No doubt earning can compensate all the expenditure of our effort & time but that should be Good Earning with the area of interest.

Let's start with an example of two friends from same educational as well as financial background "TAHA & HETA". Taha & Heta both did not find any placement from their campus and started their job search, although they are mechanical engineer. Taha found a job of Mechanical Engineer in a company with a salary of 20,000. Heta was not lucky enough to get the job. Both need money to support their family. Heta tried but unfortunately every time he visit the company he got the rejection on the account of experience, some time on the account of different tools used in the industry. Heta spent again some money to learn some software tools to groom his Mechanical Degree but failed.

Finally one day Heta while surfing internet found some scholarships website of DAAD & Erasmus, who used to sponsor students from developing country to do masters in some fields. Heta found some time they need GRE, GMAT & sometime IELTS exams to start the process. Heta decided to invest some initial amount to sit in the required exam IELTS for his area of interest while his thirst of job meaning search of job was going on parallel. At the end of four months he still did not find any job while Taha already saved some 50,000 during this time. But this time the opportunity knocked at the door of Heta and landed him in Erasmus Program to do his master in the area of Automobile. He happily left the country because the master program was fully funded. He just spend time to write some applications and emails and yes he got the scholarship funded by the organization which by which he was getting around 1000 euro per month.

When Heta was on the way to Europe Taha met and told, "It's time to earn why the hell you are going for the master when your family need the money and apart of that at the end of two year you will again face problems to start the carrier while at that time I will have some two year of experience". He smiled and left.

He started getting 1000 euro per month in which he used to save 300 euro per month. During his study he got some opportunity to work with professor where he utilized his early learnt software tools and again earned some money to buy the luxurious gadgets of his time. After two years he earned almost 7200 euro with an European master degree. He went back to his country and found a job where he appointed as an assistant of Taha. But he was happy and even Taha was also happy to be Heta's boss. But due an international exposure both were earning same at that time.

After spending few years when both reached at the age of 35, they got a chance for promotion as the project manager. Although Taha was having more experience than Heta, but Company choosed Heta due to the the better understanding of subject which he learnt due to his master. Taha felt that his life saturated at that post and with the salary. Now it was the time to take the advantage to earn a lot and move a bit more than his friend for Heta just because he thought for a long run and spent some more time on further studies.

So after our graduation if one is earning 25,000 per month then it's better to think and search for some funded master program which only needs your hard work on documentation. Although you can't earn that much but if one can save money from his scholarship then he can support his family with at-least 15,000 per month in worst condition. But life after master can land you at-least at better position than the graduation. This story implies not only for engineering degree holders but for all graduating backgrounds. Just think widely and compare the opportunity.

The resurrection of the people to Mahshar will greatly vary depending on the Eman and Deeds. Some will come on foot, some will be riding, some will be happy and some will be sad. Some will be walking on mouth; some will be pushed by fire. Some will be sweating up to back and mouth. It will be a chaotic situation where none will ask others. Today man will come to know the reality of his single deed. Hence, he will be moving here and there to safeguard it so that no one from his near and dear can ask for it. Allah says in (Chapter: Abas, Verse 34-37), "On the day when a man will be away from his brother, his mother, his father, his wife and his children. Every man that day will have concern enough to make him heedless (of others)"..

Allah Almighty also says, "And no familiar friend will ask a question of his friend though they will be given sight of them. The guilty man will long to be able to ransom himself from the punishment of that day at the price of his children, his spouse, his brother, and his kin that harboured him". (Al-Maarij 10-13).

The period of Mahshar will be of 50 thousand years (Al-Maarij/4). The length of this day will be different depending on the group (Believers, Non-believers, Mushrik, Munafiq, Bid'ati, Bad performers of Muslim, etc), and the variation in long/short span of time is well-known according to the intensity of distress and peace.

A day with Allah is as a thousand years of what you count (Al-Hajj/47). Our Prophet (S) said that the poor Muslim will go to Heaven half day earlier from rich Muslim and the span of this half day is equivalent to five hundred years (Tirmezi). This Hadith explicitly describe about the awfulness of wealth for which the man is competing here each other. Those who don't have money have no accountability about whether it was spent lavishly in lawful things, or spent in unlawful things or spent in fashion, or spent in legitimate things but to gain status in the society or spent niggardly, etc.

Our Prophet (S) used to pray: O' Allah keep me alive a poor person, and give me death as a poor person, and gather me among the poor on the Day of Resurrection. (Tirmezi at the authority of Anas (R)).

Allah Almighty will bake the earth as bread and the people of Paradise will be eating it till they are allowed to enter Heaven. It will be first hosting for the people of Heaven in Qiyamat. The curry for this bread will be fish, so big that a part of its liver alone will be enough for seventy thousand people (Muttafaq Alaih, narrated from Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri (R)).

 "I almost didn't take the photograph. I'd been walking through a remote Kenyan village near the border with Somalia shadowing a group of United Nations bosses who were there to see the impact of the recently declared Somali famine and region-wide drought. I'd become tired of such trips over the years, which I blogged about for Reuters here, and was particularly struck that day by the often surreal nature of the African aid circus.
 When I saw this official dressed in a suit and using an iPad to film a dead cow, I just stood and stared, pretty sure I had rarely seen anything so strange and incongruous, such an odd meeting of a world filled with ultra-modern developments and one trapped in a cycle of age-old problems.
 I finally snapped the picture just seconds before the man stood and caught me standing behind him."

Women insecurity: A Threat to Women Education

Shahzad Alam Barni, RTI Activist (Aligarh)

The security for the women is a very sensitive issue in the post modern era. As per the data collected by the National Crime Records Bureau's publication "Crime in India 2009" shows that with 1,759 rape victims in 2009, UP had 0.9 rape victims per lakh population. Compare that with the 1,631 victims in a much smaller state like Assam, which means a rate of 5.3 rape victims per lakh population, almost six times the rate in UP.

At the other end of the scale, the five worst were Assam, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Delhi and West Bengal, in descending order of the rate. Even the best among this lot, West Bengal had a rate of 2.6 rape victims per lakh population that is about thrice as bad as in UP. The five best States or Union Territories in 2009, among those with a population of 100 lakh or more, were Gujarat, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, UP and Bihar in that order, all of them having less than one rape victim per lakh population.

As per the report of Times of India published on Jan 6, 2008 there has been a phenomenal eight-fold increase in the number of rapes committed in India since 1971, the year from which data for rape cases has been collected by the National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB). This stands in marked contrast to other serious and violent crimes like murder, robbery, dacoity, kidnapping and rioting. Overall, violent crimes under the Indian Penal Code (IPC) have actually declined.

The issues of women are getting hype day by day. Social activist, especially the women rights activist raises the issues for the empowerment of the women and gender equality but they forget the most and very prior requirement of life that is security for the women.

This is a very common practice that we have the most valuable entity into the locker just because of the security reason as same as we try to safeguard the women in the society. The security of the women can never be fully achieved with full freedom given to the women but with some reasonable restrictions in the system.

Educational backwardness among the women community is also a very dangerous problem prevailing in the society. Cultural and social development of a child more over depends on the environment provided at home so it is very necessary to be educated for the head of the family at home that normally the mother.

There are two main problems that exist in the society; one is women should be educated to provide the overall development for the new generation as we know that the best teacher of a person is his/her mother, secondly another problem is the security of the women as we know that cases of the sexual harassment are increasing with very fast rate.

So such a kind of system must be developed in the society that both the problems could be solved at the same time. To solve both the problems at the same government must open women poly technique, women's colleges, special schools for the girls so that women could get proper education with proper security.

Nowadays, we hear about carbohydrate all the time. Foods that contain carbohydrate raise blood glucose. Did you know there are three main types of carbohydrate? There are

- Starch
- Sugar
- And Fiber

You'll also hear terms like naturally occurring sugar, added sugar, low-calorie sweeteners, sugar alcohols, reduced-calorie sweeteners, processed grains, enriched grains, complex carbohydrate, sweets, refined grains, and whole grains.

No wonder knowing what kind and how much carbohydrate to eat can be confusing!

On the nutrition label, the term "total carbohydrate" includes all three types of carbohydrates. This is the number you should pay attention to if you are carbohydrate counting.

Starch

Foods high in starch include:

- Starchy vegetables like peas, corn, lima beans, and potatoes
- Dried beans, lentils, and peas such as pinto beans, kidney beans, black eyed peas, and split peas
- Grains like oats, barley, and rice. These include pasta, bread, and crackers but the variety is expanding to include other grains as well.

The grain group can be broken down even further into whole grain or refined grain.

A grain, let's take wheat for example, contains three parts:

- bran
- germ
- endosperm

The bran is the outer hard shell of the grain. It is the part of the grain that provides the most fiber and most of the B vitamins and minerals.

The germ is the next layer and is packed with nutrients including essential fatty acids and vitamin E.

The endosperm is the soft part in the center of the grain. It contains the starch. Whole grain means that the entire grain kernel is in the food.

If you eat a whole grain food, it contains the bran, germ, and endosperm so you get all of the nutrients that whole grains have to offer. If you eat a refined grain food, it contains only the endosperm or the starchy part so you miss out on a lot of vitamins and minerals. Because whole grains contain the entire grain, they are much more nutritious than refined grains.

Sugar

Sugar is another type of carbohydrate. You may also hear sugar referred to as simple or fast-acting carbohydrate. There are two main types of sugar:

- naturally occurring sugars such as those in milk or fruit
- added sugars such as those added during processing such as fruit canned in heavy syrup or sugar added to make a cookie

On the nutrition facts label, the number of sugar grams includes both added and natural sugars.

There are many different names for sugar. Examples of common names are table sugar, brown sugar, molasses, honey, beet sugar, cane sugar, confectioner's sugar, powdered sugar, raw sugar, turbinado, maple syrup, high-fructose corn syrup, agave nectar, and sugar cane syrup.

You may also see table sugar listed by its chemical name, sucrose. Fruit sugar is also known as fructose and the sugar in milk is called lactose. You can recognize other sugars on labels because their chemical names also end in "-ose." For example glucose (also called dextrose), fructose (also called levulose), lactose, and maltose.

If you are looking for information about artificial sweeteners, try this section.

Fiber

Fiber comes from plant foods so there is no fiber in animal products such as milk, eggs, meat, poultry, and fish.

Fiber is the indigestible part of plant foods, including fruits, vegetables, whole grains, nuts, and legumes. When you consume dietary fiber, most of it passes through the intestines and is not digested.

For good health, adults need to try to eat 25 to 30 grams of fiber each day. Most Americans do not consume nearly enough fiber in their diet, so while it is wise to aim for this goal, any increase in fiber in your diet can be beneficial. Most of us only get about ½ what is recommended.

Fiber contributes to digestive health, helps to keep you regular and helps to make you feel full and satisfied after eating. Additional health benefits, of a diet high in fiber — such as a reduction in cholesterol levels — have been suggested by some so may be an additional benefit.

Good sources of dietary fiber include:

- Beans and legumes. Think black beans, kidney beans, pintos, chick peas (garbanzos), white beans, and lentils.
 - Fruits and vegetables, especially those with edible skin (for example, apples, corn and beans) and those with edible seeds (for example, berries).
 - Whole grains such as:
 - Whole wheat pasta
 - Whole grain cereals (Look for those with three grams of dietary fiber or more per serving, including those made from whole wheat, wheat bran, and oats.)
 - Whole grain breads (To be a good source of fiber, one slice of bread should have at least three grams of fiber. Another good indication: look for breads where the first ingredient is a whole grain. For example, whole wheat or oats.) Many grain products now have "double fiber" with extra fiber added.
 - Nuts — try different kinds. Peanuts, walnuts and almonds are a good source of fiber and healthy fat, but watch portion sizes, because they also contain a lot of calories in a small amount.
- In general, an excellent source of fiber contains five grams or more per serving, while a good source of fiber contains 2.5 - 4.9 grams per serving.

It is best to get your fiber from food rather than taking a supplement. In addition to the fiber, these foods have a wealth of nutrition, containing many important vitamins and minerals. In fact, they may contain nutrients that haven't even been discovered yet!

It is also important that you increase your fiber intake gradually, to prevent stomach irritation, and that you increase your intake of water and other liquids, to prevent constipation.

Because fiber is not digested like other carbohydrates, for carbohydrate counting purposes, if a serving of a food contains more than or equal to 5 grams of dietary fiber, you can subtract half the grams of dietary fiber from the total carbohydrate serving of that food.

Gender Justice, Gender Equality, Women's Rights – a chance to act God!

By Shakeel Ahmad (shakeeluae@gmail.com)

{It is fine to term men as dogs because of similarity in their behaviour to that creature! But, how can you equate man to as beautiful a creation of God Almighty as a woman! No injustice against women can be as macabre as this!}

If only God created men to bear children, the "Gender Equality", "Women's Rights", or "Gender Justice" movements would not have been required, nor would women need to be provoked into "confronting the men"; women would be the bully instead! I think the chauvinistic conditioning of the male mind doesn't begin at home, but much earlier, in the heavens!! If only God created the men and women equal, none would be able to bully the other, nor would any of them need to subjugate. Both being equal, they would wrestle along the whole of their life, if at all they could bear each other!! EkmeyaanmeN do talwaar!! Man would bear one child, woman another, a perfect balance; but alas!! My sister's mother would be a man, and my mother a woman. I hope it's not getting too confusing!! Sorry for that ... men and women, please forgive me equally!!

Bullying is in human nature. The stronger one (humans as well as animals) always bullies the weaker one. If the weaker one agrees to play second fiddle - in management philosophy, it is called "division of labour", love and peace (backed by sympathy, maybe) may prevail, else the tug of war, suspicion breeding more suspicion, and conflict will be an order of the day. We witness this everyday in our offices- men bullying men, they don't necessarily have to bully a woman; they could easily be bowled over by women peers. Women bullying women is even an uglier scene everywhere, be it the office or home.

Stronger families or clans bully the weaker ones; same is true for nations.

This is the way we are created - all living beings - so why complain? And, complain to whom? By provoking one party to open a front against the other, we are not solving the problem at all; we are only opening new frontiers; to no avail.

"Compromise" may be a dirty word only as long as it does not give way to its positive counterparts like "accommodation", "adaptation" (even, "adjustment"). Similarly, "exploitation" may sound offensive only until we look at it from another perspective, for example, if we perceive it as "helping" the other party, it automatically becomes a noble act - this may only need adjustment of our ego-controls.

The liberated woman is suffering far more because she is fighting the battle on more than one front, and finally finds herself shattered, leaving the society in tatters - they are exploited in office, at home, in the streets. The beasts of prey are waiting for an easy "catch", sometimes to prove they are stronger (to subdue the "weaker sex"), sometimes "just for fun", sometimes to avenge an insult (as are demands of equality perceived). Her "freedom" sets her free as a commodity ready to be consumed. The source of exploitation of the free-bird is friends more often than the foes.

Why should women alone compromise; just because they are physically weak? Can't men be exploited; they must be having some weaknesses? Well, most men are in fact lured into spending time and money on women friends and partners. Not an exploitation? Fine. What about this finding "3 in 4 B.C. boys on street sexually exploited by women"? [<http://bit.ly/vl6ogu>]. Well, "men aren't boys" who would complain against exploitation by the opposite sex! They have learnt to enjoy this exploitation; muslim men permit exploitation by more than one woman at a time, and enjoy it too.

Gender justice, which is definitely an area everyone must work on so that he or she is not caught off-guard by Allah, for any injustice done to the other individuals around him or her. But, I always wonder how there can be gender equality!! Gender is a creation of the Almighty. It was His discretion to create two different genders or three, but not one. Is it within the capability of us humans to make the distinctively different creatures equal? Is it not same as dreaming to make dogs equal to cats or men. I mean, it is fine to term men as dogs because of similarity in their behaviour to that creature! But, how can you equate men to as beautiful a creation of God Almighty as women! No injustice against women can be as macabre as this! I mean how can I ask my wife to make me as beautiful as her? However much her cosmetics I steal-and-use for my sandy skin, how can I turn them as soft as hers. And, how can I similarly be as soft in behaviour to my kids as she always is!!

Allah has placed Jannah at the feet of women, can I snatch that away from my wife's feet? Even if I scrape, scratch or lick the underside of her feet, or the ground underneath, the whole of my life, will that Jannah ever be mine?

Allah's advice to my kids is to care for their mother three times more than me; in fact they do so even if they are unaware of this because Allah has perhaps filled their hearts with much more love for their mother than for their father. Now, how can your gender equality campaign provide justice to me?

Compromise is the key to happy life in this temporary phase of our being. If men did not compromise their freedom in favour of women, no social fabric could be imagined – unless one fibre makes way for the others, no fabric is possible. If women did not sacrifice their freedom and joy for the sake of their children, boys and girls alike, procreation would stop and this phase of life would come to a screeching halt.

It is the combined responsibility of men and women to try to remove the discrepancies, disputes, disparities; together, like the two eyes. Imperfections would exist, we can't eliminate them; we aren't God!

For water to flow naturally, one side (end) has to be lower than the other; love flows in similar fashion – the best example is that from parents to children. And yes, most men have to bow before their women to receive an affectionate kiss.

Jamiatul Falah: A Modern Madarsa in Bilariyaganj

http://zeenews.india.com/news/uttar-pradesh/a-progressive-madrassa-in-the-heart-of-up_749517.html

Bilariyaganj: Breaking the stereotypes associated with madrassas, a 50-year-old Islamic seminary here teaches subjects like personality development and home science, runs an elaborate teacher training programme, has a higher girl enrolment ratio and has students who are no less active on social networking websites than their counterparts in the metros.

Welcome to Jamiatul Falah, a madrasa in Bilariyaganj town of Uttar Pradesh's Azamgarh's district that has kept pace with modern education. The 4,300 students who come here from across the country are taught subjects like personality development, economics, political science and home science -- subjects which are rarely taught in Islamic institutions.

Jamiatul Falah, which means University of Eternal Success, also started a mini Industrial Training Institute (ITI) and a public hospital earlier this year.

The institution now wants to start paramedical courses for students.

"Now the madrasa people across the country recognize that there is a need to train teachers because they play a key role in any educational system," Falah manager Mohammad Tahir Madani told reporters.

"The modern subjects are helpful to understand the religious commandments and create confidence among our students," he said.

"If our students don't know other languages, then they won't know other cultures. Nowadays, if they don't know English they may feel an inferiority complex," he explained.

More than 50 percent of the students in the institution in higher classes are comfortable with the Internet and most have a Facebook account. The Most Extraordinary League of Super Smart Phones is here

بہتر روشنی سے تو کسی کانڈل سے بھی کم ہے کی کوئی شمع جلتے ہوئے

Better light a candle than curse the darkness

If we can think of it, we can do it

Corruption, loot everywhere in Bihar: Dr. Ajay Kumar

Noted physician and president of the Indian Medical Association, Dr Ajay Kumar, presented a totally different picture of Bihar and made it loud and clear that for common men and women nothing had changed in the last six years, especially in the health sector. "Yes a few of us in the urban pockets may have been benefited, but the rest is just bogus media propaganda and statistical jugglery. You want to know how data about growth rate and others are compiled; come on I will teach you this art," he thundered amidst applause.

He said hardly anything had been done in the health sector. Only the centrally-sponsored National Rural Health Mission funds worth hundreds of crores have been misused, squandered and looted from top to bottom. There is no mobile hospital anywhere in Bihar. Those running taxis had been given the contract of providing ambulance and generator in primary health centres. Huge racket is flourishing in the name of private sector participation in this sector. The scene is very dismal yet this government is busy sketching rosy picture about the state.

Referring to the people living abroad he said that "they give fantastic mantras and ideas on Facebook and Twitter as if we are not aware of it. Go and see what is happening in rural Bihar."

Bureaucrats in Patna get news published that so many people are now turning up to primary health centres. The truth is that strongmen and their family-members in each villages are getting free medicines even if they are perfectly health. The rest remains deprived. "When such huge amount of medicines are coming from the Centre what else would be done," he added.

The former IMA chief said that while the number of medical cadres have declined from 15,000 to 3,500 in the last few years the state government instead of appointing fresh doctors are busy increasing the retirement age from 60 to 62 to 65 years. In the rural areas it is recruiting doctors on contracts. Is this the solution?

There should be one medical college for every 50 lakh population. By that yardstick Bihar should have 20 medical colleges. But where are they?

Donot talk about scarcity of doctor. There is no para-medical staff, no one to handle ECG. Recently it was announced that each district would have an ICU. The truth is that there is no hands to manage ICU in PMCH. All is being done to mint money.

He said that no youth had been left in Bihar. All the able-bodied men have left the state. Those who have been left behind are either engage in looting MNREGA money or some other government schemes.

Dr Ajay Kumar said that corruption is at its peak. No it is not from below, but from top. "Why the government is arresting lower division clerk or ASI, when all those on the top are neck deep in corruption," he asked while concluding his speech with a couplet.

میں نے قرآن میں پڑھا کہ جو شخص اپنے رب سے ڈرا، اور نفس

کو خواہشات سے روکا ہے شک جنت میں اسکا ٹھکانہ ہے،

اس لئے میں نے اپنی نفسانی خواہشات پر قابو پا لیا

امام غزالی کی کتاب احیاء العلوم سے "کامیابی کے آسان ٹوٹکے"

رومان فاروق:

میں نے دنیا پر نظر ڈالی ہر شخص کسی نہ کسی چیز سے محبت کرتا ہے مگر اس محبوب چیز کو چھوڑ کر اکیلا قبر میں چلا جاتا ہے۔ میں نے سوچا کہ میں نیکیوں اور اچھے کاموں سے محبت کروں تاکہ وہ قبر میں بھی میرے ساتھ جائیں اور مجھے اکیلا نہ چھوڑیں۔

☆ میں نے لوگوں کو دیکھا کہ ان کے پاس کوئی قیمتی چیز ہے تو وہ اسکی خوب حفاظت کرتے ہیں پھر میں نے اس آیت پر غور کیا کہ "جو کچھ ہمارے پاس ہے وہ ختم ہونے والا ہے" اور جو خدا کے پاس ہے وہ باقی رہنے والا ہے" چنانچہ میں اپنی ہر قیمتی چیز کو خدا کے حوالے کر دیتا ہوں تاکہ وہ میرے لئے باقی رہے اور میرے کام آئے۔

☆ میں نے قرآن میں پڑھا کہ جو شخص اپنے رب سے ڈرا، اور نفس کو خواہشات سے روکا ہے شک جنت میں اسکا ٹھکانہ ہے، اس لئے میں نے اپنی نفسانی خواہشات پر قابو پا لیا۔

☆ دنیا میں ہر شخص کسی نہ کسی بات پر نازاں ہے۔ کوئی مال دولت پر تو کوئی حسب و نسب پر اور کوئی عہدے و منصب پر تو میں نے ان پر غور کیا تو مجھے یہ سب حقیر نظر آئیں پھر میں نے یہ آیت پڑھی کہ "تم میں سے سب سے زیادہ پرہیز گار ہی اللہ کے نزدیک ہے" اور اشرف ہے" اس پر میں نے پرہیز گار بننے کی کوشش کی تاکہ بڑا اور اشرف بن جاؤں۔

☆ میں نے اہل دنیا کو اس حال میں دیکھا کہ ایک دوسرے کو لعن طعن کرتے ہیں۔ لوگ آپس میں برس برس پیکار رہتے ہیں۔ لڑتے جھگڑتے رہتے ہیں۔ میری رائے میں ان تمام تنازعوں کی بنیاد حسد ہے۔ میں نے خدا کا فرمان پڑھا کہ دنیاوی زندگی میں روزی ہم تقسیم کرتے ہیں میں نے اس آیت پر غور کیا کہ "جب ہر ایک کی قسمت خدا نے بنادی ہے تو پھر کسی سے حسدس بات کا" چنانچہ میں نے حسد کو دل سے نکال دیا اور اللہ کی جانب سے جو کچھ کسی کو مل رہا ہے اس پر راضی ہو گیا اور دل کو سکون آ گیا۔

☆ میں نے دنیا میں دیکھا کہ ہر کوئی دوسرے کا دشمن بنا پھرتا ہے۔ مرنے مارنے کو دوڑتا ہے اور دنیا فساد کرتا ہے۔ پھر میں نے قرآن کی یہ آیت پڑھی کہ "یقیناً شیطان تمہارا دشمن ہے تم اسکو اپنا دشمن سمجھو" اسکے بعد میں نے صرف شیطان کو ہی اپنا اصل دشمن سمجھ لیا اور انسانوں سے لڑنا بند کر دیا اب شیطان ہی سے مجھے عداوت ہے اور میں اسی سے اپنے بچاؤ کا پورا بندوبست رکھتا ہوں اب کسی اور سے میری کوئی عداوت نہیں ہے اور میں امن سے ہوں۔

☆ لوگ روٹی کے ایک ٹکڑے کے لئے مارے مارے پھرتے ہیں۔ اپنے آپ کو ذلیل و خوار کرتے ہیں۔ اور اس کی خاطر ایسے طریقے و ذریعے استعمال کرتے ہیں جو سخت نامناسب ہیں۔ مجھے یہ سب دیکھ کر قرآن کی یہ آیت یاد آتی ہے کہ "ہر جاندار کا رزق اللہ کے ذمے ہے" تو میں بھی ایک جاندار ہی ہوں جس کی روزی کا ذمہ اللہ سے لے لیا ہے۔ چنانچہ میں خود اپنی ذمہ داریاں دیانت کے ساتھ ادا کرتا ہوں اور روزی کے معاملے کو اللہ پر چھوڑتا ہوں۔

☆ میں نے یہ دیکھا کہ ہر شخص کسی نہ کسی ایسی چیز پر بھروسہ اور توکل کئے بیٹھا ہے جو اسکی نہیں اللہ کی مخلوق ہے۔ کسی کو جائیداد پر، کسی کو تجارت پر، کسی کو اپنے ہنر پر فخر و خور ہے اور کوئی اپنی صحت اور تندرستی پر نازاں ہے۔ غرض ایک مخلوق کسی دوسری مخلوق پر تنقید کے بیٹھی ہے، میں نے ایک آیت پڑھی کہ جو خدا پر بھروسہ کرتا ہے خدا اسکے لئے کافی ہے۔ اب میں نے مخلوق کی جگہ خدا پر بھروسہ اور توکل کر لیا ہے۔

تارکین کرام! آج اگر ہم اسے پڑھ کر صدق دل سے صرف یہ دعا مانگ لیں کہ "اے اللہ ہمیں بھی اتنی ہی غور و فکر اور باریک بینی عطا فرمائے (آمین) اور آج ہم اپنی بے راہ روی سے تیری آزمائشوں کے کھیلے میں جکڑے ہوئے ہیں ان سے بازیاں ہوں تو یقین اللہ مستا ہے۔ اور دعائیں اور توبہ قبول کرتا ہے، یقیناً ایسا کرنے سے ہمارے حالات اور حالت بدل سکتی ہے۔

Dear Readers

AssalamoAlaikum

We do receive several mails every day about what people are doing, thinking, and feeling. And even when we don't know the authors of the messages that land in our in boxes, reading their words can be, in many ways, like looking into our own lives.

Over the past year, we've heard from individuals who simply had something to share a connection to community either tenuous or strong, a thought about what a typical life means today, to them.

Now we'd like to hear from YOU.

What inspires you? What would you choose to share with hundred of thousand people to whom you are somehow connected through Bihar Anjuman?

Would you like to pose a question, write a poem, describe an experience, and develop an idea, writing some articles?

What aspect of your life do you want us to know about?

Just think about the recent run of life: beginning of new academic new Year for kids, change of season, missing the mark and making amends, non-attachment and impermanence, and how we start again, every morning.

What will we learn this time? What can we discover about and from each other—or, more specifically, about ourselves—by sharing our views with one another?

I personally invite you to consider sharing your thoughts with us.

While we are particularly interested in thoughts that somehow relate to or reflect on lives, we also welcome submissions that touch upon any of the values we share here.

Islam, way of upliftment of downtrodden masses of our community, taking ownership of a particular responsibilities or a particular district, about sustainability and intergenerational community.

We would love your feedback. What do you like about Bihar Anjuman and its newsletter BaKhabar? What do you want to see next? Please do not hesitate..... poor in writing...no problem; strong in writing...wow...then gladly we may learn from YOU, please comment on us And yes, please do not worry we love to hear critics as well, we think every criticism makes us more open, more stronger and opportunity to achieve a fine dimension, believe me the day we will stop the people pleading not to criticize us, we would be stagnant and certainly we do not want to be a stagnant.....

We love to hear from YOU. Your suggestions, Your comments, Your contributions believe me would be an indispensable gift for us. So what are YOU waiting for?

Share your thoughts with our editors (every letter addressed to bakhabar@biharanjuman.org, goes straight to our personal inbox).

One more good news to share that we would be glad to have you to be a part of our editorial team.
